very well, and whether you trust his "cheap you: words" or not, there are millions of hearts that leap with enthusiasm at his frank and manly avowals of the true political "scripture," who do entertain a fixed faith and firm confidence in his "professions," and who will never be disappointed. They moreover believe that "the years when Buchanan was victorious, and It was "the Devil," we are told by the great lovely and innocent first parent and whispered evil dreams to mislead her. The spear of the bright-winged Ithuriel touched the venomous Staff of the Rifle Regiment from Baltimore monster and transformed him into his own ugly whispered false tales into the ears of our country about its wonderful strength to overcome the foul demon of Black Republicanism? And In one sense Buchanan has played "the very Black Republicanism say when.

The Eagle talks about getting out the "long guns " and rusning up "the old stars and stripes, " because it does not trust Mr. Br-CHANAN'S "empty profession." Now we do thing the Eogle ought not to be so "flighty" about nothing. If the President's professions are good, justice, fair-dealing, honest advice to that his enemies should wait and see whether he fulfils them. Let a man have a fair chance even if he is a Democrat, a Sag-Nicht, or any other hard name the Eagle may choose to call with Allegheny Guards, Capt. Schley, 52 men, him. "Give even the Devil his due," is an old but safe maxim.

By the way, we take the privilege to suggest that the Engle will never be able to damage "Old Buck " by calling him hard names. Epithets never killed a great man, nor damaged even a small one. They are not "long guns," nor even a pocket pistol in a contest against an Administration which commends itself to the" " Union-loving " people by such noble, lofty and wise sentiments and such sound doctrines as
